Lucky number 7 is Cameron's new mantra with a new album which has two #1 singles and four top 10 hits on the dance charts. 'No Regrets' is Cameron's 7th album, which has a mixture of dance and what she calls 'dance groove'

recordings. "I wanted to record something that sounded fresh, that people could dance to, but could also just hang," explained Cameron. She brought in some heavy hitters when it came to the remixes including London's Wideboys, the USA's DJ Riddler, and Germany's own Tom Novy.

Staying true to her need to write about love, each song about new, old and even hard relationships. Vocals on the album hit new ranges for Cameron with harmonies that add the right layers to the exact right places. Big builds throughout each record along with memorable hooks but limited synth melodies with more emphasis on the bass line. To listen to the full album, Spotify and Pandora are currently featuring 'No Regrets.'

Billboard Producer and lead producer of the album, Kevin Rockhill says, "Kim Cameron infuses her playful and original vocal style with vivid songwriting and pop sensibility."

As soon as Kim decided it was time to take a break from writing songs this fall, the words would not stop flowing. A new approach to EDM, pop and dance mixed together that, as Kim says, "Make you fall in love with new music all over again."
