

Send Celebrity Video Messages of Thanks to Great Americans Serving in Uniform

Posted: Dec 20, 2008 04:17 PM

Updated: Dec 20, 2008 04:17 PM

WASHINGTON-- Beginning December 19, 2008, GreatAmericans.com is providing a one-of-a-kind opportunity for Americans to send recorded celebrity messages of thanks to their personal great American serving in uniform.

This is made possible through the support and participation of music artists including John Ondrasik, singer/songwriter and founder of the band Five for Fighting and Kim Cameron, lead singer of the Side FX Band, whose personalized video messages will be available at GreatAmericans.com. Visitors to the site can view the available celebrity messages, enter the name and information of their great American and simply hit "send" to thank them in a special way. This holiday campaign will also provide visitors an opportunity to upload a video of their great American for everyone to see.

"We want to reach the great men and women in uniform to offer our gratitude - and the best way to do so this holiday season is through the ones who love and respect them most," said Matt Daniels, Founder and Producer of GreatAmericans.com. "This holiday campaign is our way of paying tribute to the truly unsung heroes of our time. We recognize and thank those who commit selfless acts that should never go unnoticed."

GreatAmericans.com launched on Veterans Day 2008 and its mission is to inspire Americans with stories of positive role models of our time, especially the great men and women serving our nation in uniform.