Electronic dance artist, Kim Cameron, brings the heat from Miami, Florida with her latest music video, "Burning." The steamy video comes with the recent single from Cameron's upcoming Greatest Hits album, set to release on January 19, 2018.

"Burning" appears to be an anomaly for this dance club Queen, since it has more of a laid-back, sensual vibe that is more like the after-hours track of the collection. "Burning" is also one of the never-before-released tracks on the album and features trumpeter, Ted Zimmerman, from Miami.

Best known for her high-energy Billboard and DJ National dance chart-topping hits over the past decade, this prolific artist has released 10 albums so far. Her new Greatest Hits album contains her collection of 15 musical gems that include collaborations with Grammy-nominated Mike Rizzo, DJ Steve Migliore, and Bimbo Jones (remixed Lady Gaga, Britney Spears, Kylie Minogue, Maroon 5 and P!nk). I would highly recommend adding Cameron's song, "Burning," to your weekend unwind playlist!
