

The Riddle

---

July 20, 2015

Children's book based on Hawk's Cay

Shady Palm Photography

Emma, her friends Marty, the merman, Oliver, the octopus, Steve, the starfish, and Wally, the whale, travel to the Florida Keys to solve a mystery that has been guarded for thousands of years. The only way they can find out the truth is to follow a map of riddles.

The Riddle is the fourth installment of the Seaper Powers children's book series, written by rising children's book author Kim Cameron and based on Hawks Cay following a 2014 visit. Targeting kindergarten through third graders, The Riddle follows earlier Seaper Powers' stories: In Search of Bleu Jay's Treasure, The Mystery of the Blue Pearls and The Rescue.

In this newest adventure, you can follow Emma and her cast of marine animal friends to the Florida Keys to solve a mystery that has been guarded for thousands of years. The only way they can find out the truth is to follow a map of riddles. This book combines the fun and mystery of solving riddles with the beauty of Hawk's Cay.

Hawks Cay has for years offered guests of all ages that idyllic combination of serenity, escape, fun and aquamarine adventure. It has inspired families, couples, children and the young at heart to find whatever they may be seeking from the perfect getaway. And now, it has quite literally inspired Cameron to write The Riddle.

About Hawks Cay

Midway down the Florida Keys, there's a small and secluded island called Duck Key.

Some of the distinguishing features are aquamarine water all around, glorious sunrises and sunsets and fishing and snorkeling all on an island that lulls you to relax. Centrally located to Miami and Key West makes it easy to reach by car, boat or plane. All of this and more at Hawks Cay Resort.