Travel into a new world for Kim Cameron's latest single "Tip Toe." A trip that will take you to an R&B rhythm with an endless hook. Layered harmonies cover this tune with a memorable melody line that seems to linger for days. Inspired by two people who toy with the idea of getting to know each other, but keep their distance, each waiting for the other to make the first move. Produced by Kevin Rockhill out of New York City, this collaboration was inspired during the Pandemic, as Cameron says, 'We all are Tiptoeing around this virus.'

Tip Toe Remixes

Tip Toe was written by Kim Cameron in the heart of the Coronavirus lock down. The remixes were created by Cameron's favorite producer, DJ Halo. Taking the song up to a 130 BPM, these mixes have a surreal club bounce and rhythm seldom heard in nightclubs. With the push for more online creative sounds, DJ Halo took these to the next level, pushing boundaries across the electronic scene.

Originally from the Los Angeles area, Kim Cameron moved to a number of states in the US with her family before settling in Nebraska where she earned her college degree in broadcast journalism. Growing up, she had played the clarinet in her school orchestra and marching band as a child and eventually landed musical theatre roles and sang in choirs in her young adult years. After college, she worked as a radio personality in Lincoln, NE and later worked for information technology companies in their media departments. While continuing to work in the corporate world, she moved to Miami Beach where she began her musical path by joining a local cover band in the early 90s.
